

Reliance North America Coronavirus Announcement

Dear Valued Customer,

As has been widely reported in news media, there have been significant reactions announced to the spread of COVID-19 in the last 24 hours.

Our Reliance North America teams in Asia have provided the following updates overnight:

Our manufacturing teams in Asia are reporting that the situation is becoming close to “normalized” and we are seeing the factories coming back online and freight is moving off their docks.

Our freight carriers are stable and increasing every day based on the capacity that is being put in and pulled out.

Please reach out to your local Reliance North America office if you need assistance.

All of our offices are open and operating normally.

Thank you,

Tom Zebrowski
